Dear Tom:

Trigon, Inc. was our general contractor on recent renovation to our children's building last summer. It was a real challenge to bring that building into the '90s. Our children's department staff wanted so much done, but they wanted it finished before programming hit the busy fall season.

Charles Poindexter was extremely helpful through our planning stage. It was just so important to have the schedules and budget set realistically. We had a $400,000 budget for last summer's project and they completed the work within budget and on time. Although our projects usually complete on budget, it is unfortunately rare that they complete on time. So, this was a great experience.

During construction, their on-site supervisor was Tim Mayer. He really did a terrific job in scheduling so we didn't have wasted days with no people working.

I have no trouble recommending you consider Trigon for your building project. If you had any question, please give me a call.

Sincerely,
